NIELSEN - GLOBAL VALUE, class B (LU0394131592)

a sub-fund of NIELSEN

Management Company: Conventum Asset Management

Objectives and investment policy

Objectives

The sub-fund's principal objective is to seek long-term return by investing mainly in shares of companies.

Investment policy

The sub-fund invests at least 51% of its net assets in shares of companies listed on an official stock exchange. Subject to market conditions and investment opportunities in companies, the sub-fund may invest:

- up to 49% of its net assets in short-term government debt instruments issued by EU Member States with a residual life, at the date of acquisition, of maximum 5 years,
- in other debt instruments with a maturity date shorter than 12 months and in cash deposits.

The sub-fund is not subject to any monetary or sectorial limitations. The sub-fund seeks to achieve long term growth of capital by investing in common stocks of well-financed companies at a substantial discount to the company's intrinsic business value. The debt securities in which the sub-fund may invest shall be issued by governments of EU Member States without a minimum rating requirement.

The sub-fund may use hedging strategies that aim to reduce the consequences of unfavorable conditions of the markets the sub-fund is invested in and/or of the price movements of the currencies the sub-fund is invested in.

The portfolio is managed on a discretionary basis without using a reference benchmark.

The currency of the unit class is expressed in EUR.

The investor has the right to redeem his units on demand. The dealing in units is carried out on each complete bank business day in Luxembourg. The attention of the investor is drawn to the fact that in exceptional circumstances, the possibility for the investor to request the redemption of his units may be limited or suspended.

These units are capitalisation units. Income and capital gains are reinvested.

Recommendation

This fund may not be appropriate for investors who plan to withdraw their money within 3 years.

Risk and reward profile

What does this synthetic indicator mean?

- The units of class B are classified in category 4 because the value of the unit may be subject to medium variations and consequently the risk of loss and the opportunity of gain may be moderate.
- The risk category has been determined on the basis of historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile. The risk and reward category shown does not necessarily remain unchanged and the categorisation of the fund may shift over time.
- The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.
- Repayment of the initial investment is not guaranteed.

Which materially relevant risks are not adequately captured by the synthetic indicator?

- The investment in debt instruments bears a credit risk insofar as the issuer may refuse or be in a position where it is not able to reimburse all or part of the interests or even of the principal due on the debt instruments. This may result in significant or even total losses of the value of the investments in these debt instruments.

- The market for securities issued by small- and mid-capitalisation companies is generally less liquid than the market for securities issued by large-capitalisation companies. This leads to a higher risk as certain subfund investments in the market for small- and mid-capitalisation companies may be temporarily unavailable for purchase or sale at fair value.
- The use of currency hedging techniques, hedging the currency of the share class against the currency of the sub-fund, aims at reducing the currency risks without, however, eliminating those risks totally.
- Other risk factors, that an investor shall take into account with regards to his own situation and specific current and future circumstances, may exist.

How can I get more information about the risks of the sub-fund?
